

Michael Kennedy

Executive Vice President
Innovation & Payments Strategy
Wells Fargo & Company

Mike Kennedy is the Executive Vice President and Head of Innovation and Payments Strategy for Wells Fargo. Mike and his team work across all of Wells Fargo to drive new payment opportunities, develop payments strategies, and represent Wells Fargo in the payments industry. They also drive technology research and development and lead social media for the Wholesale Bank.

Mike is Co-Founder and Chairman of clearXchange, a joint venture among Wells Fargo, Bank of America, and JPMorgan Chase. The first bank-owned solution of its kind, clearXchange enables customers to move money safely by using a mobile number or email address.

Mike joined Wells Fargo in 2004 with the Wealth Management Group, where he worked until 2008, most recently as Head of Strategy and Implementation.

Prior to joining Wells Fargo, Mike worked at McKinsey and Company, consulting to large financial services institutions. Before that, Mike was the Head of Strategy and Business Development at Vail Associates and was an Associate at a venture capital firm.

Mike earned his Bachelor of Science with distinction and Master's of Science degrees in Industrial Engineering from Stanford University and his MBA with distinction from Harvard Business School.

Together we'll go far
